Prime Minister of India
Acknowledgements

The Telecom Sector Skill Council would like to express its gratitude to all the individuals and institutions who contributed in different ways towards the preparation of this “Facilitator Guide”. Without their contribution it could not have been completed. Special thanks are extended to those who collaborated in the preparation of its different modules. Sincere appreciation is also extended to all who provided peer review for these modules.

The preparation of this Guide would not have been possible without the Telecom Industry’s support. Industry feedback has been extremely encouraging, from inception to conclusion, and it is with their input that we have tried to bridge the skill gaps existing today in the industry.

This Facilitator Guide is dedicated to the aspiring youth who desire to achieve special skills which will be a lifelong asset for their future endeavours.
In the last five years, the growth of the Indian telecommunications sector has outpaced the overall economic growth. This sector is poised for strong growth of about 15% in short term during 2013–17, driven by growth in organised retail, technological advancements, changing consumer preferences and government support. With over 1 billion subscribers, India is the second largest telecom market in the world. The sector currently employs over 2.08 million employees and is slated to employ more than 4.16 million employees by 2022. This implies additional creation of 2.1 million jobs in the nine-year period.

This Facilitator Guide is designed to impart theoretical and practical skill training to students for becoming a Field Sales Executive.

A Field Sales Executive in the Telecom industry is also known as Feet on Street (FOS)/Distributor Sales Executive (DSE)/ Distributor Sales Representative (DSR).

Individuals at this job visit retail outlets to deliver prepaid telecom products/services to retailers, as per daily Route/Beat Plan. This person is also responsible to achieve monthly revenue targets, increase width and depth of distribution, adhere to process compliance for new customer enrolment as well as increase customer base.

This Facilitator Guide is based on Field Sales Executive (FSE) Qualification Pack (TEL/Q0200) & includes the following National Occupational Standards (NOSs):

1. Pre-sales preparation - TEL/N0200
2. Increase customer base and revenue - TEL/N0201
3. Increase distribution width - TEL/N0202
4. Process compliance - TEL/N0203
5. Data expertise - TEL/N0110

Post this training, the participant will be able to deliver stock to retailers and increase outlet universe, to cover entire the population in the assigned territory.

We hope that this Facilitator Guide will provide a sound learning support to our young friends who want to build an attractive career in the telecom industry.

UNIT 1.2: Introduction to Telecom Industry in India

Unit Objectives

At the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- Identify the growth and trends in the Telecom Industry in India

Resources to be Used

Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

1.2.1 Note

This is the second session of the program which talks about the Indian Telecom Industry, its importance and the challenges it has faced over the years.

1.2.2 Say

Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session, let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

1.2.3 Do

1. Begin with revising the topics explained in the previous session. Ask the following questions:
   - What did you understand in the previous class?
   - What are the objectives that need to be covered in the entire program?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

1.2.4 Say

Now let us begin with a new session which is about the Telecom Industry in India. In the previous sessions, we have had a clear understanding about the objectives of the program. Now we will talk about the Telecom Industry in India.
1.2.5 Say

The Telecom industry has always played a major role in growth and development. In today’s information age, the telecommunication industry has a vital role to play. Considered as the backbone of industrial and economic development, the industry has been aiding delivery of voice and data services at rapidly increasing speeds, and thus, has been revolutionising human communication.

Major sectors of the Indian Telecommunication industry are telephony (includes mobile telephony), internet (includes broadband data) and television broadcasting. India’s telecommunication network is the second largest in the world based on the total number of telephone users (both fixed and mobile phone).

With approximately 900 million subscribers, the gross revenue of the sector stands at about INR 57,400 crores as of September 2013.

1.2.6 Say

Now let us understand about key growth drivers in the telecom industry.

1.2.7 Do

Take them through key growth drivers in the telecom industry.

1.2.8 Elaborate

Key growth drivers in the telecom industry:

- Rising income and growing rural market
- Subscriber base
- Mergers and Acquisitions Policy
- Mobile Value Added Services and handsets

Refer to the Participant Handbook (Pg 5-7) to explain in detail about key growth drivers in the telecom industry.

1.2.9 Say

Let us now move further and discuss about key development in the telecommunication sector.

1.2.10 Do

- Share with the participants about relaxed FDI norms
- Take the participants through general trends in employment
- Discuss with them about challenges faced by recruiters
1.2.11 Elaborate

Relaxed FDI norms:
- Abolishment of roaming charges
- Establish internet connections
- Unified license
- Financial support
- Expansion to rural areas
- Relaxing merger and acquisitions norms
- Reduction in license fees

Challenges faced by recruiters:
- Candidates lack exposure, technical depth, analytical and logical reasoning.
- There are less institutes imparting core telecommunication education and developing skill-set required in the telecommunications sector.
- High attrition rate in entry-level roles poses a significant challenge for service providers and other sub-segments.
- Candidates fail to develop a combination of skills, resourcefulness and entrepreneurial abilities.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 6-8) to explain in detail about key development in the telecommunication sector.

1.2.12 Do

Take the participants through major players in the telecommunication sector and telecom zonal operational structure by referring to the chart/diagram given in the participant handbook (Pg 8-9).

1.2.13 Notes for Facilitation

- Ask the participants if they have any questions
- Encourage other participants to answer it and to encourage peer learning in the class
- Clarify all doubts of the participants
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question

1.2.14 Summary

1. Major sectors of the Indian telecommunication industry are telephony (includes mobile telephony), internet (includes broadband data) and television broadcasting. India’s telecommunication network is the second largest in the world based on the total number of telephone users (both fixed and mobile phone).
2. The sector currently employs over 2.08 million employees and is slated to employ more than 4.16 million employees by 2022.

3. Major players in telecom industry are:-

UNIT 2.1: Effective Communication

Unit Objectives

At the end of this unit, students will be able to:
- Explain the types and importance of communication
- Discuss about telephone etiquette and art of listening and probing
- Practise different aspects of communication

Resources to be Used

Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

2.1.1 Note

This is the fourth session of the program and it talks about effective communication. Communication is a very important skill which a Field Sales Executive must possess. Thus explain the details of communication to the participants.

2.1.2 Say

Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

2.1.3 Do

1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - Why is the role of a Field Sales Executive important?
   - List some of the personal attributes required to be a successful Field Sales Executive.
   - Why is responsibility important for your job role?
   - What is the work cycle of a Field Sales Executive?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

2.1.4 Say

A Field Sales Executive interacts with customers in three ways:
• Telephone and SMS
• Face to Face
• Documents

Therefore it is very important for the Field Sales Executive to develop his communication ability to ensure that the right message goes across.

2.1.5 Ask

Ask the participants the importance of communication. Write down the points they share on a flip chart/ black board and link it with the points given in the participant handbook in order to create an interactive and interesting learning session.

2.1.6 Say

Communication is the process of sending and receiving information among people. The purpose of communication is to get your message across to others. In fact, a message is successful only when both the sender and the receiver perceive it in the same way.

2.1.7 Do

Share with the participants about importance of communication.

2.1.8 Elaborate

Importance of communication:
• Critical element in your career and personal lives
• Inspires confidence
• Builds respect in business and social life
• Helps make friends
• Develops a distinct personality
• Reveals your ability to others
2.1.9 Activity

- The facilitator should choose a number of well-known phrases and write half of each phrase on a piece of paper. For example, “Happy” on one piece and “Birthday” on another.
- The number of pieces of paper should match the number of participants in the group.
- Put the folded pieces of paper in a bowl.
- Ask each participant to take a piece from the bowl and try to find the member of the group with the same matching half of the phrase.

2.1.10 Say

For effective communication, the Field Sales Executive has to focus on four important things. So let us now discuss about essentials of communication.

2.1.11 Do

- Take the participants through the customer’s communication style.
- Share with them about clarity in communication.
- Discuss with them about the art of listening and art of asking questions.

2.1.12 Elaborate

Refer to figure number 2.1.2 given in the participant handbook and explain about the process of customer communication.

2.1.13 Activity

Divide the class in four groups and ask the participants to make a chart on the process of customer communication. The best chart will be pinned on the board in order to encourage passive learning.

At the end of the activity reiterate the process of customer communication in order to conclude the activity in a proper way.
2.1.14 Say

The FSE should clearly communicate with peers/seniors about tasks at the workplace. Try to communicate in a way that conveys your meaning and demonstrates respect for your listeners.

2.1.5 Ask

Ask the participants to list down the 7 C’s of communication. Write down the points they share on a flip chart/blackboard and link it with the points given in the participant handbook in order to create an interactive and interesting learning session.

2.1.16 Do

- Share with the participants about clarity in communication
- Explain about 7 C’s of communication

2.1.17 Elaborate

The 7 C’s of communication are helpful. The 7 C’s provide a checklist for making sure that your communication in every form is clear so that your customers get your message. According to the 7 C’s, communication needs to be:

- Complete
- Concise
- Considerate
- Clear
- Concrete
- Courteous
- Correct

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 20-22) to explain to the participants about 7 C’s of communication in detail.
Effective listening is an active endeavour. It is much more than just hearing what customers say. Good listeners project themselves into the customer’s mind. Through effective listening, the Field Sales Executive demonstrates concern for the customer’s needs by selecting appropriate merchandise to present to the customers.

Techniques for active listening include:

- Repeating or rephrasing information
- Summarizing conversations
- Tolerating silences

Let us move further and discuss about the art of asking questions.

Ask the participants if they have ever spoken to any call centre executive, if yes, ask them the reason for calling them

- Was there any SIM card issue
- Were they not satisfied with a particular service?
- Did they want to block their number?

During the process, the call centre executive must have asked a few questions. Ask the participants to share with the class the steps the call centre executive followed while asking questions.
2.1.21 Do

Share with the participants about the art of asking questions/probing.

2.1.22 Elaborate

The art of all successful selling is to ask the questions. All good sales executives have the following characteristics:

- They Ask
- The Right Person
- At the Right Time
- The Right Questions
- Listen, then have
- The Right Answers
- In the Right Way
- With The Right Evidence
- At all times have a great Attitude

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 23-24) to explain about guidelines for effective questioning.

2.1.23 Do

Ask the participants to get ready for a role play.

2.1.24 Activity

Ask them to get into groups, prepare and perform role plays where a Field Sales Executive is demonstrating effective and ineffective listening. Ask them to use all the techniques of effective listening.

Appreciate their effort. Ask the class to observe while the others are presenting and write down their learning. Reiterate the importance of effective listening.

Debrief: The objective of this activity is to understand about effective listening technique.

The facilitator must ensure that all the participants demonstrate effective and ineffective listening technique, so that they are able to understand the importance of effective listening.

2.1.25 Activity

Ask the participants to write down 10 sample questions each in which they may ask the customer to understand his need and encourage them to buy. For eg,

- Which brands are you representing now?
- What is the payment mode you prefer?
- Which is your biggest brand?

Go around the class as they are writing and guide them to form effective questions.

Debrief: The objective of this activity is to understand about effective questioning/probing technique. The facilitator must ensure that the participants prepare ten questions each, which they can use to understand the needs of customers and convince them to buy the product.

2.1.26 Do

Share with the participants about pattern of non-verbal communication.

2.1.27 Elaborate

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 24-25) to explain about the pattern of non-verbal communication.

2.1.28 Activity

Divide the class in four groups and ask the participants to make a chart on pattern of non-verbal communication. The best chart will be pinned on the board in order to encourage passive learning.

2.1.29 Say
The customer’s impression of a Field Sales Executive and the organization is influenced entirely by what a Field Sales Executive says and, more so, by how he says it. When speaking on the phone the voice reveals what the Field Sales Executive thinks and feels regardless of what words he uses.
Let us now discuss about telephone etiquettes in detail.

2.1.30 Do
Share with the participants about telephone etiquettes by referring to the participant handbook (Pg 25).

2.1.31 Say
Many times a Field Sales Executive communicates using SMS/text messages. This is done to convey information on new offers and coupons and also to get the Business Health Report (BHR) from the retailer. SMS is a powerful tool in communication as it is a written medium. Thus there is no room for error. As a Field Sales Executive, before sending out the SMS, ensure that it is absolutely accurate.

2.1.32 Do
Share with the participants about SMS.

2.1.33 Elaborate
How to write an accurate SMS
- Avoid Uncommon Abbreviations
- Personalize the Message
- Create a Strong Call to Action
- Respond Immediately
Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 26) to explain about writing an error free SMS.
2.1.34 Activity

Ask them to get into groups and do mocks to practice the correct usage of the telephone and SMS with each other. Observe their practice and give inputs when required.

2.1.35 Notes for Facilitation

- Ask the participants if they have any questions
- Encourage other participants to answer it and to encourage peer learning in the class
- Clarify all doubts of the participants
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question

2.1.36 Summary

1. Communication is the process of sending and receiving information among people. The purpose of communication is to get your message across to others.

2. For an effective communication, the FSE has to focus on four important things:
   - Understanding the customer’s communication style
   - Clarity in communication
   - The Art of Listening
   - Art of Asking Questions

3. 7 C’s of effective communication are:
   - Complete
   - Concise
   - Considerate
   - Clear
   - Concrete
   - Courteous
   - Correct

4. Types of communication are: Verbal- An effective verbal communication is a two way communication, which means that the sender and receiver, both are present and the message is delivered clearly.
   Non-verbal communication- More is communicated through our actions and gestures than through mere use of words.
UNIT 2.2: Rapport Building

Unit Objectives

At the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- Explain rapport building and steps involved in building a rapport

2.2.1 Note

This is the fifth session of the program which talks about Rapport Building. As a Field Sales Executive, one needs to build rapport with the customer. It is a very important aspect of their job role, so discuss with the participants about rapport building in detail.

2.2.2 Say

Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session, let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

2.2.3 Do

1. Begin with revising the topics explained in the previous session. Ask the following questions:
   - List down some of the common jargons that are used in everyday life and alternate words or phrases for it.
   - Write the importance of non-verbal communication.
   - What are the 7 Cs of communication?
   - What is the four-step process of active listening?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

2.2.4 Say

Rapport is a state of harmonious understanding with another individual or group that enables greater and easier communication. The first task in successful interpersonal relationships is to attempt to build rapport. Building rapport is all about matching ourselves with another person.
2.2.5 Do

Share with the participants about helpful rapport building behaviour.

2.2.6 Elaborate

Rapport is important in both our professional and personal lives; employers are more likely to employ somebody who they believe will get on well with their current staff.

Tips to build Rapport with customers:

- Remember their names
- Know more about them
- Make them feel special

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 30-31) to explain about helpful rapport building behaviour.

2.2.7 Activity

- Ask the participants to choose a spot in the room
- Tell them to start the game by standing on their spot
- Instruct people to walk around the room and carry out a particular action, for example: hopping, saying hello to everyone, dancing, etc.
- When the facilitator says “stop”, everyone should run to their original spot
- The person who reaches his/her spot first is the next leader and can instruct the group to do what they wish

7 Ways to Build Rapport:

- Be genuine
- Be warm and friendly
- Show interest
- Do not seem too needy
2.2.9 Activity

Ask the participants to pair themselves. Ask one of them to act as the Field Sales Executive and the other as a customer. Ask them to present a situation where the Field Sales Executive is trying to build rapport with the customer. Observe their efforts and keep guiding them to ensure internalising of concepts.

Debrief: The objective of this activity is to ensure that the participants understand the importance of rapport building. The facilitator must ensure that the participants follow all the seven ways of building rapport.

2.2.10 Notes for Facilitation

- Ask the participants if they have any questions
- Encourage other participants to answer it and to encourage peer learning in the class
- Clarify all doubts of the participants
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question

2.2.11 Summary

1. Rapport is a state of harmonious understanding with another individual or group that enables greater and easier communication.
2. Seven ways to build rapport are:
   - Be genuine
   - Be warm and friendly
   - Show interest
   - Do not seem too needy
   - Give genuine compliments
• Calibrate the rapport to “just right.”
• Read the culture

3. Customer management means to deliver positive customer experiences which lead to customer loyalty and new business generation through referrals

4. Service is the commitment to providing a high quality of service to customers with a positive attitude, knowledge, technical support, in a timely manner.

5. Phases of Customer Service Management
   • Pre-customer service
   • Customer service
   • Post-customer service

6. Characteristics of excellent customer service are:
   • Communication
   • Consistency
   • Dependability
   • Friendliness
   • Fairness
   • Flexibility
   • Responsiveness
   • Respectfulness
   • Sincerity
   • Speciality
   • Sensitivity
   • Solving Problems

7. Organised information collected from your customer about their opinion, suggestions and experience about the product or service is called Feedback.
UNIT 2.3: Customer Service

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- Discuss the concept and importance of customer service

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

2.3.1 Note
This is the sixth session of the program which talks about customer service.

2.3.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session, let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

2.3.3 Do
1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - List few techniques of building rapport with customers
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

2.3.4 Say
A customer oriented organisation places customer satisfaction at the core of each of its business decisions. Customer orientation is defined as an approach to sales and customer-relations in which the employees focus on helping customers to meet their long-term needs and wants.

You have to understand that whether it suits you or not, the customer is always right. He is the king and you have to provide him services according to his needs and desires.
2.3.5 Ask
Ask the participants to share their understanding about customer service. Write down the points they share on a flip chart/ black board and link it with the points given in the participant handbook in order to create an interactive and interesting learning session.

2.3.6 Do
Share with the participants about customer management.

2.3.7 Elaborate
Customer management means to deliver positive customer experiences which lead to customer loyalty and new business generation through referrals. A service desk can enhance the customer’s experience and satisfaction, expand their lifetime value and improve business.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 34) to explain about traditional and modern organisational chart figure 2.3.1.

2.3.8 Do
Tell the participants to get ready for an activity.

2.3.9 Activity
Divide the class in four groups and ask the participants to make a chart on traditional and modern organisational chart. The best chart will be pinned on the board in order to encourage passive learning.

At the end of the activity reiterate about customer management in order to conclude the activity in a proper way.

Let us now discuss about characteristics of excellent customer service.

Share with the participants about characteristics of excellent customer service by referring to the table given in the participant handbook (Pg 36).

Organised information collected from your customer about their opinion, suggestions and experience about the product or service is called Feedback.

Let us discuss about feedback in detail.

- Share with the participants about importance of customer feedback
- Discuss with them the advantages of customer feedback

Customer feedback allows telecom companies to better understand how customers rate and use their products or service as against competitive products. It is of high importance for determining where a company’s products and services excel or fall short against customer’s expectation and against alternate service providers in the market. For example, customers may like the network coverage of ABC Telecom as against XYZ Telecom, which means that XYZ Telecom would need to improve on their network coverage.

Customer feedback can help telecom companies evaluate how employees treat customers. Customer Service Satisfaction survey is a common type of marketing research. Companies can determine through surveys whether customers are getting their questions answered and problems resolved. Additionally, a company can determine if some customer service representatives are being rude to customers, especially if the topic of rudeness comes up frequently during the surveys.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 38) to explain about advantages of customer feedback.

Ask the participants to refer to the Participant Handbook and study in detail about advantages of customer feedback, so that when they are asked question regarding it they are able to answer it.

- Clarify all doubts of the participants
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question
UNIT 2.4: Code of Ethics and Code of Conduct

Unit Objectives

At the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- Discuss the concept of Code of Ethics
- Understand what are fraudulent practices
- Learn to follow the Codes of Conduct

Resources to be Used

Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

2.4.1 Note

This is the seventh session of the program which talks about code of ethics and code of conduct.

2.4.2 Say

Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

2.4.3 Do

1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - Why are customer service and feedback crucial for a Field Sales Executive?
   - What are the three phases of customer service?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

2.4.4 Say

Now let us begin with a new session which is about code of ethics and code of conduct. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about customer service, now we will talk about code of ethics and code of conduct.
It is important to follow the code of ethics outlined by your company. These could be regarding different facets of your role, like the way you speak, the way you identify yourself, the way you deal with the data of the customer, etc.

Let us discuss about code of ethics and code of conduct for a Field Sales Executive.

- Share with the participant about ethics
- Discuss with them about code of ethics and code of conduct for a sales executive.

Ethics
- Be fair and ethical in your dealings with customers.
- Any promise made as per delegation of authority should be captured in the system.
- Always state the correct amount to be paid by the customer. Do not convey incorrect amounts or inflated amounts.
- Do not conduct personal level dealings with customers.
- Do not pay visits to the customer’s house without company’s acknowledgement.

Fraudulent Practices
Fraudulent practices can lead to immediate termination of employment, prosecution and police complaints regarding the concerned Field Sales Executive. The following practices are defined as fraudulent practices:
- Tampering, falsification or unauthorized overwriting of cheques, receipt books, drafts, and other negotiable instruments.
- Tampering, falsification and false commitments on receipts and settlement letters.
- Using the cash payment of customer for personal purpose even for a temporary period.
- False commitments to customers, verbal or written, promising waivers, settlements etc.

Refer to the Participant handbook (Pg 40-42) to explain about code of conduct in detail.
2.4.9 Activity

Divide the participants in four groups and make them play a quiz on code of ethics and code of conduct. The winning group will be awarded with a gift hamper.

At the end of the activity, reiterate about code of ethics and code of conduct, in order to conclude the activity in a proper manner.

UNIT 2.5: Key Words

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:
- List down the keywords used in the telecom services

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

2.5.1 Note
This is the eighth session of the program which talks about key words used in the telecom sector.

2.5.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

2.5.3 Do
1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - What according to you should be the code of ethics apart from above mentioned measures?
   - List two code of conduct, you follow in day to day life?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

2.5.4 Do
Share with the participants about key words used in the telecom sector.
2.5.5 Elaborate

Key words used in telecom sector are:

- Stakeholders
- Field Sales Executive
- Average Revenue per Unit
- Distributor
- Retailers
- Customer
- Territory Sales Manager
- Month-to-date Sales
- Beat Plan
- Business Health Report
- Core Skills or Generic Skills

- Ask the participants if they have any questions
- Encourage other participants to answer it and to encourage peer learning in the class
- Clarify all doubts of the participants
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question
UNIT 2.6: Cellular Network Architecture (COAI)

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:
- Understand Cellular Network Architecture- COAI

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

2.6.1 Note
This is the ninth session of the program which talks about Cellular Network Architecture.

2.6.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session

2.6.3 Do
1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - Explain any two key words used in telecom sector
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

2.6.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about Cellular Network Architecture. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about key words used in the telecom sector, now we will talk about Cellular Network Architecture.

2.6.5 Say
Let us discuss about Cellular Network Architecture
2.6.6 Elaborate

A cell phone is nothing more than a radio. It is a complex radio, but still a radio. In order to really understand the way a cell phone works, we must discuss some of the cell phones history.

In the early 1950s', mobile-radio-phones were not very common. In urban areas, there were large central antennas that were specifically allocated for these radio-phones. Each car that had a radio-phone required a big antenna that could transmit at least 40 or 50 miles. Since radio technology itself was only in the building phase, only about 25 channels were available for private use. So basically only 25 people could be talking on their radio-phones at the same time.

The solution to this problem was to divide each city up into small divisions, or “cells”. The technology behind cells have changed dramatically over the years, just as cell phones have, but now most standard cells are about 10 square miles large. They are usually in the shape of a hexagon. Nowadays, every individual cell has its own base station, rather than only one for an entire city.

And now cell phones are made to be low-power transmitters (either 0.3 watts or 6 watts), which is much lower wattage than in past decades. This means that the same frequency can be used in the same city, at the same time, but in different cells.

2.6.7 Activity

Ask the participants to refer to the Participant Handbook and study in detail about Cellular Network Architecture, so that when they are asked questions regarding it they are able to answer them.

- Ask the participants if they have any questions
- Encourage other participants to answer it and to encourage peer learning in the class
- Clarify all doubts of the participants
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question
3. Pre-Sales Preparation

Unit 3.1 – Pre-Sales Preparation
Unit 3.2 – Personal Presentation
Unit 3.3 – Pre-Sales Planning
Unit 3.4 – Understanding Your Territory
Unit 3.5 – Understanding the Customer
Unit 3.6 – Sales Report
Key Learning Outcomes

At the end of this module, you will be able to:
1. Discuss the importance of pre-sales preparation
2. Demonstrate pre-sales preparation
UNIT 3.1: Pre-Sales Preparation

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:
- Discuss the importance of pre-sales preparation
- Understand the preparatory activity for pre-sales

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

3.1.1 Note
This is the tenth session of the program which talks about pre-sales preparation. Pre-sales is an important part of the job of a Field Sales Executive. Focus on the field visit and make sure the participants see all the concepts they have learned in class first hand during their field visit. Make them familiar with the different formats a Field Sales Executive uses.

3.1.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

3.1.3 Do
1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - What do you understand about cellular network architectures?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

3.1.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about pre-sales preparation. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about cellular network architecture, now we will talk about pre-sales preparation.
3.1.5 Say
Great sales start with greater sales planning. All the homework, research, and effort you put into your pre-call sales plan will lead to great conversations and even larger sales. Putting in the effort to plan for your sales call removes the risk of error, surprises, and time wastage. Pre-sales is a set of activities normally carried out before achieving a sales target. Effective pre sales planning is a critical component for sales success. A salesperson that does no pre-call planning is like a boxer who steps into the ring blindfolded.

3.1.6 Say
The Pre-Sales Activities for a Field Sales Executive can be broken into two areas: Planning and Preparing.

3.1.7 Ask
Ask them what they understand by planning and preparing. Ask them what they think comes in planning and preparing.
Response: Capture all the responses on the whiteboard. Sum up the discussion by using all the points shared by the class and then telling them about planning and preparing.

3.1.8 Do
Share with the participants about planning and preparing.

3.1.9 Elaborate
Planning:
Planning is a scheme or method, developed in advance, for doing, proceeding or making something. Planning can take time, and some salespeople see it as cumbersome and minimize its importance. But the payoff is worth the time investment, since it improves results at every stage of the sales process and sets up stronger long-term customer relationships by:
• Helping to convey essential information
• Ensuring consistent progress is made according to goals and objectives
• Increasing credibility, and
• Cultivating the image of a well-prepared, knowledgeable business partner

Preparing for the call:
To prepare is to put together or make by combining various elements or ingredients. One should write an objective, determine the processes used to achieve those objectives, set quantifiable goals for each objective and practice for the call.
Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 51-52) to explain in detail about planning and preparation.
3.1.10 Activity

Provide participants with chart papers and ask them to make posters on what points/activities should be included in pre-sales preparation.

Ask them to do the MTD sales activity in the Participant Handbook.

3.1.12 Notes for Facilitation

- Ask the participants if they have any questions.
- Encourage other participants to answer it and to encourage peer learning in the class.
- Clarify all doubts of the participants.
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook.
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question.

3.1.13 Summary

1. Pre-sales is a set of activities normally carried out before achieving a sales target.
2. Planning is a scheme or method, developed in advance, for doing, proceeding or making something.
3. Planning, in the Pre-Sales Activities, includes:
   - Knowing your organisation.
   - Prospect/ Customer identification.
   - Product research.
   - Competitor/ industry research.
   - Creating a call strategy.
   - Evaluation of your products and services relative to the competition.
4. In order to prepare for a call one should write an objective, determine the processes used to achieve those objectives, set quantifiable goals for each objective and practice for the call.
UNIT 3.2: Personal Presentation

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:
- Understand about personal presentation

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

3.2.1 Note
This is the eleventh session of the program which talks about personal presentation.

3.2.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session, let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

3.2.3 Do
1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions

2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

3.2.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about personal presentation. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about pre-sales preparation, now we will talk about personal presentation.

3.2.5 Say
An important part of pre sales planning is personal grooming. As a Field Sales Executive you need to be dressed in full uniform as per company norms, and also properly groom yourself as per the service standards.
3.2.6 Ask  🎓

What are the various things you do to groom yourself every morning.

Response:
Capture their responses on the white board and sum up their responses to talk about the best practices in personal grooming.

3.2.7 Do  ✓

- Share with the participants about personal grooming
- Share with them about specific uniform guidelines for men and women
- Explain to them about personal hygiene

3.2.8 Elaborate  🌟

An important part of pre-sales planning is personal grooming. As a Field Sales Executive you need to be dressed in full uniform as per company norms, and also properly groom yourself as per the service standards.

Appearance
- The field team is the brand ambassador of the organization. They represent company in front of the customers they visit. Hence they are expected to present a neat & clean appearance. They are expected to be in uniforms (including shirt, trousers, shoes & socks) which must be worn clean & ironed.
- Care should be taken so as no stains, broken buttons, or loose thread is present on the uniform.
- Shoes should be clean & polished all the time. No sandals/slippers/ sports shoes and white socks to be worn while on duty.
- Nails must be clean & cut as most of the time one will be handling merchandise.
- Hair should be neatly combed before commencing duty, never in front of customers.
- Display ID cards when on duty so as it helps the customers to identify the staff.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 52-53) to explain in detail about specific uniform guidelines for men and women and personal hygiene.

3.2.9 Activity  🎉

Divide the class into 4 groups and give them one chart paper each. Two groups will write the do’s and don’t’s of grooming guidelines for men and the other two groups for women.

The best chart will be pinned up on the board in order to encourage passive learning.

UNIT 3.3: Pre-Sales Planning

Unit Objectives

At the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- Understand about pre-sales planning

Resources to be Used

Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

3.3.1 Note

This is the twelfth session of the program which talks about pre-sales planning.

3.3.2 Say

Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session, let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

3.3.3 Do

1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - What are the ill-effects of alcoholism?
   - List down the specific uniform guidelines for both men and women.
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

3.3.4 Say

Now let us begin with a new session which is about pre-sales planning. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about personal presentation, now we will talk about pre-sales planning.
3.3.5 Say
Pre-sales planning helps you improve your credibility as a sales person. The Territory Sales Manager has the responsibility to ensure alignment between the company’s strategic goals and the activity of each individual member of the sales team they manage. The objective of the territory sales management channel is to grow the revenue, profitability and trading base of the Small, Medium and Large customer classifications through:

- The acquisition of new customers
- Retention and development of existing customers
- Improvement of revenue quality

3.3.6 Say
Let us move further and discuss about pre-sales planning in detail

3.3.7 Do

- Share with the participants about how to divide monthly targets into weekly and daily targets.
- Share the tips on target setting.

3.3.8 Elaborate
As a Field Sales Executive, you must understand your targets from your Territory Sales Manager and divide them into monthly, weekly and daily targets. Clear targets help Field Sales Executives in approaching the market in an organised and efficient manner. For Field Sales Executives, it is easier to close a deal by keeping a track of orders, proposals and customers.

For a Field Sales Executive, each day is very important as his daily targets add to his weekly targets and his weekly targets add to his monthly targets.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 54-55) to explain in detail about monthly target and tips on target setting.

3.3.9 Activity
Provide each participant with a monthly target and ask them to prepare a weekly and daily target with that information.

3.3.10 Say 🗤
Let us now discuss about product and service for sales.

3.3.11 Do ✅
Share with the participants about product and service for sales.

3.3.12 Elaborate 🎨
Telecom Products and services:
Some of the products and services that a Field Sales Executive sells are:
- New connections Voice
  - New SIMs
  - Mobile number portability SIMs
- New Connections Data
- Dongles: 3D, 4D
- Recharges
  - Voice
  - Data
- Paper Coupons
The Field Sales Executive also should communicate the current offers and schemes to the retailers and subscribers. Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 56) to explain in detail about merchandising element.

3.3.13 Do ✅
Tell the participants to get ready for an activity which would energize them.

3.3.14 Activity 🎨
- Ask the participants to pair themselves.
- Tell the partners to observe each other and keep in mind the appearance of their partner. Then ask one of them to turn their back while the other is making three or four changes to his/her appearance. For example, putting their watch on the other wrist, removing their glasses, folding their sleeves, etc.
- Ask the other partner to turn around and spot the changes made.
- Once done, ask the players to switch the roles.
3.3.15 Notes for Facilitation

- Ask the participants if they have any questions.
- Encourage other participants to answer it and to encourage peer learning in the class.
- Clarify all doubts of the participants.
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook.
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question.

3.3.16 Summary

1. Pre-sales planning helps you improve your credibility as a sales person.
2. For an FSE each day is very important as his daily targets add to his weekly targets and his weekly targets add to his monthly targets.
3. An FSE should plan to collect all the advertising merchandise such as danglers, flex boards, standees, gates from the distributor and make sure they are put up at the retailers either by the merchandiser or by FSE himself.
UNIT 3.4: Understanding Your Territory

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- Know about your territory

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

3.4.1 Note
This is the thirteenth session of the program which talks about understanding your territory.

3.4.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

3.4.3 Do
1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   a. List down the product and services for sale.
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

3.4.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about understanding your territory. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about pre-sales planning; now we will talk about understanding your territory.

3.4.5 Say
The Field Sales Executive needs to understand the territory he will be operating in and proceed as per pre-defined route and beat plan. The daily plan of visiting the existing and prospective customers as per timetable or schedule is called the Beat Plan.
3.4.6 Do
Share with the participants about steps to manage territory.

3.4.7 Elaborate
Steps to manage territory
- Identify the territory (e.g. industry, channel, customer, geography)
- Identify value of current accounts and potential
- Identify potential within the territory (prospects, suspects)
- Monitor cost per call (what is profitable)
- Plan the route, current and prospective
- Use waiting time effectively (read, answer mail, write memos, etc.)
- Schedule time for follow-up

3.4.8 Activity
Ask the participants to refer to the Participant Handbook and study in detail about steps to manage territory, so that when they are asked questions regarding it they are able to answer them.

- Clarify all doubts of the participants.
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question

3.4.10 Summary
1. The FSE needs to understand the territory he will be operating in and proceed as per pre-defined route and beat plan.
2. The daily plan of visiting the existing and prospective customers as per timetable or schedule is called the Beat Plan.
UNIT 3.5: Understanding the Customer

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:
- about the customers needs and demands

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

3.5.1 Note
This is the fourteenth session of the program which talks about understanding the customer.

3.5.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

3.5.3 Do
1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - List down the steps involved in managing the territory.
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

3.5.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about understanding the customer. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about understanding your territory; now we will talk about understanding the customer.
3.5.5 Say

There are three main ways to understand customers better.

- One is to put oneself in their shoes and try and look at your business from their point of view.
- The second way is to collect and analyse data in order to shed light on their buying behaviour.
- The third way is simply to ask them what they think.

3.5.6 Do

Share with the participants about need and importance of understanding customers.

3.5.7 Elaborate

As a Field Sales Executive, one of the first steps in starting is identifying your market. Once you have identified your market, you can begin targeting the people who will pay for all of your business’s explosive growth. The target market can be broken down into four “who, where, why and how” components:

- Demography: Who needs your product or service? Include basic demographic details such as age, gender, family size, educational level and occupation here.
- Geography: Where are your customers? These are the places your customers can be found (i.e., their zip code) and be sure to learn details like the size of the area, its population density, etc.
- Psychographics and Ethnographics: Why will a customer buy your product? Study the attitudes and tastes of a certain demographic.
- Buying habits: How do customers purchase products and services? Understand their culture and religion and offer your product to suit the same. For e.g., different religious festivals like Diwali, Eid and even occasions like birthdays and anniversaries govern buying habits.

3.5.8 Activity

- Divide the class into 4 groups.
- Give them one of the 4 elements: who, where, why and how.
- Ask them to discuss in groups the importance of their element and how it impacts the whole marketing.
- Each group can present the main points of their discussion.

3.5.9 Do

• Share with the participants about pre-sales information
• Share with them about the importance and sources of pre-sales information

3.5.10 Elaborate

Importance of pre-sales Information:
Getting pre-approach helps you qualify dealers. In addition, finding out about a vendor, especially something “personal,” before the call or meeting, helps you tailor your approach toward his or her needs. For example, if your dealer has said he will only carry the top three products in a category, and he only likes demos on Thursdays, you may wish to mention your latest rating (if it is in the top 3) and suggest an appointment on Thursday.

Sources of pre-sales Information:
Before approaching your prospective dealers and distributors you should have a detailed database. If this database been properly maintained you should be able to pull out the most qualified dealers to demonstrate your products to. Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 58-59) to explain about pre-sales information in detail.

3.5.11 Do

Tell the participants to get ready for an energiser

3.5.12 Activity

• Draw five circles with chalk on the floor, big enough to accommodate all the participants.
• Give each island a name.
• Ask the participants to choose the island they would like to live on.
• Warn the participants that one of the islands will sink very soon and the participants in that island will be forced to move to another island.
• Allow the suspense to build and call out the name of the island that is sinking
• Participants run to the other four islands.
• The game continues until everyone is squashed onto one island

5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

3.6.4 Say

Now let us begin with a new session which is about sales report. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about understanding the customer; now we will talk about sales report.
3.6.5 Say
Let us start discussing about sales report, which a Field Sales Executive has to prepare depending on daily, weekly or monthly sales. Sales personnel who are primarily on the field doing a day to day sales activity are required to generate a sales report with details of every minute activity that they are supposed to perform the entire day. These sales reports can be prepared on a:
- Daily
- Weekly or
- Monthly basis

3.6.6 Do
- Share with the participants about monthly sales report
- Share with them about weekly sales report
- Share with them about daily sales report and how to prepare a daily sales report

3.6.7 Elaborate
Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 59-61) to explain about importance and steps involved in preparing sales report.

3.6.8 Activity

- Ask the participants if they have any questions.
- Encourage other participants to answer it and to encourage peer learning in the class.
- Clarify all doubts of the participants.
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook.
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question.

3.6.11 Summary

1. Daily sales report is a document that records most important or key performance indicators in a comprehensive way.

2. Three things to keep in mind while writing reports are:
   - Use formal language
   - Be objective and factual
   - Organise the report logically

3. Weekly reports provide the opportunity to notice downward trends in the sales numbers before they become so low that they cannot be brought up to meet quarterly or annual sales predictions.

4. The Month-to-Date Sales report displays sales from the beginning of the month to any specific date in that month i.e. the date on which the report is prepared.
4. Increase Customer Base and Revenue

Unit 4.1 – Common Telecom Products and Services
Unit 4.2 – Increasing the Customer Base and Revenue
Unit 4.3 – Increasing Brand Visibility
Unit 4.4 – Drawing Retailers Attention
Unit 4.5 – Stock Management and Collections
Unit 4.6 – Showcasing New Products
At the end of this module, you will be able to:

1. Describe common telecom products and services
2. List down the activities a Field Sales Executive must do to increase revenue
UNIT 4.1: Morning Briefing

Unit Objectives

At the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- Describe common telecom products and services

Resources to be Used

Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

4.1.1 Note

This is the sixteenth session of the program which talks about common telecom products and services.

4.1.2 Say

Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program 'Field Sales Executive'. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

4.1.3 Do

1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - List the preparations that a Field Sales Executive need to do as a part of pre-sales activities.
   - Why customer understanding is important for a Field Sales Executive?
   - What is the difference between target market and target customer?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

4.1.4 Say

Now let us begin with a new session which is about telecom products and services. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about sales report, now we will talk about telecom products and services.

4.1.5 Say

To be able to sell your products effectively, a Field Sales Executive must understand your products and services.
4.1.6 Ask

What are the common products and services a telecom company offers?

Response:
Encourage them to respond and capture all responses on the white board. Summarise the discussion by showing them the PPT of products and services offered by telecom operators.

4.1.7 Do

- Share with the participants about prepaid services
- Share with them about post-paid services
- Discuss with them about value added services
- Discuss with them about data services
- Discuss with them about call management services
- Explain them about call hold and call waiting service
- Tell them about short codes of call forwarding
- Discuss with them about call conference, call filter and call barring
- Explain them about DND (Do not Disturb) complaint registration process
- Discuss with them about porting process

4.1.8 Elaborate

Prepaid Services
Prepaid service is the Pay As You Go service, wherein the users buy a recharge balance from the provider as per his requirement.

Value Added Services
Services which are beyond standard voice call services are known as Value Added Services.

Call Management Services
Call Management includes:
- Call Waiting
- Call Hold
- CLIP & CLIR (Calling Line Identity Presentation & Calling Line Identity Restriction)
- Call Divert/Call Forwarding
- Call Conference
- Call Filter
- Call Barring
- MCI (Malicious Call Identification)
DND Complaint registration process

DND registration (now NCPR) helps customer to stop receiving unsolicited/ unwanted commercial and promotional calls and messages on his phone. Even if customers register for DND, sometimes he will receive commercial / unwanted calls and messages on his phone. If so, customer can register a complaint with his mobile operator.

Refer to the participant’s handbook (Pg 67-78) to explain about all the concepts mentioned above in detail. Also take them through all the exhibits mentioned in the handbook.

4.1.9 Activity

UNIT 4.2: Introduction to Increasing Revenue

Unit Objectives

At the end of this unit, students will be able to:
- Identify the process of increasing revenue

Resources to be Used

Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

4.2.1 Note

This is the seventeenth session of the program which talks about increasing revenue.

4.2.2 Say

Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program 'Field Sales Executive'. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

4.2.3 Do

1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - Give 5 features of a prepaid mobile.
   - What is the process of number portability?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

4.2.4 Say

Customers are the most important people for any organisation. They are the resource upon which the success of the business depends. When thinking about the importance of customers it is useful to remember that repeat business is the backbone of selling. It helps to provide revenue and certainty for the business.

Customer base will only increase when the customer is satisfied with your product and services. Customer satisfaction is at the heart of the selling process. One estimate is that it costs five times as much to attract new customers as it does to keep an existing one. The relationship between the customer and the organisation is, therefore, an important one.
4.2.5 Notes for Facilitation

- Ask the participants if they have any questions
- Encourage other participants to answer it and to encourage peer learning in the class
- Clarify all doubts of the participants
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question

4.2.6 Summary

1. Repeat business is the backbone of selling.
2. Without customers the organisation would not exist and the purpose of the organisation is to fulfil the needs of the customers.
3. Customer satisfaction is at the heart of the selling process.
4. The various activities that an FSE does to increase sales with existing customer base:
   - Increasing Brand visibility
   - Through posters, danglers etc.
   - By organising road shows
5. Drawing retailers attention through:
   - New offers and schemes
   - Offering freebies
   - Motivating retailers
UNIT 4.3: Increasing Brand Visibility

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- Understand how to increase brand visibility

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

4.3.1 Note
This is the eighteenth session of the program which talks about increasing brand visibility.

4.3.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

4.3.3 Do

5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

4.3.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about increasing brand visibility. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about increasing revenue, now we will talk about increasing brand visibility.

4.3.5 Say
A Field Sales Executive can perform two types of activities to increase brand visibility. One is using brand merchandise and the other is to organize road shows.
4.3.6 Ask
Have you seen the various kinds of merchandising items on display at a retailer store like posters, danglers? Do you think they help to increase awareness, if yes, how..?
Response:
Encourage them to respond and facilitate a class interaction.

4.3.7 Do
Share with the participants about brand merchandise and road shows.

4.3.8 Elaborate
Using posters, danglers etc.
Posters can make excellent forms of large format outdoor advertising that give brands the opportunity to increase their awareness and spread campaign messages fast. They provide a logical and cost-effective way of communicating to a particular target market. When placed correctly, attractive posters can lure nearby people into a specific event and alert them of an upcoming product or service. Posters have the ability to stick in viewers’ minds and can be a great tool for small- to medium-sized businesses and are cheaper than common forms of advertising such as print, radio and television.
Organising Road Shows: Road shows can help in spreading the business far and wide and can also help to convey the message which you want to spread to your customers and thus increase customer base.
Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 80-81) to explain about ways of increasing brand visibility, in detail.

4.3.9 Activity
Divide the participants into groups of 4-5 each. Ask them to prepare and present the benefits of using a particular kind of advertising merchandise for increasing brand visibility.

- Clarify all doubts of the participants.
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question
4.3.11 Summary

1. Posters can make excellent forms of large format outdoor advertising that give brands the opportunity to increase their awareness.

2. The advantages of using posters are:
   - High Visibility & Frequency
   - Diverse Audience Reach
   - Strong Visual Impact
   - Brand Growth & Awareness
   - Impact via Location

3. Road shows can help in spreading the business far and wide and can also help to convey the message which you want to spread to your customers and thus increase customer base.

4. Things to be kept in mind while organising road shows:
   - Timing is Everything
   - Picking Cities and Venues
UNIT 4.4: Drawing Retailers Attention

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:
- Learn how to draw retailers attention

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

4.4.1 Note
This is the nineteenth session of the program which talks about drawing retailer’s attention.

4.4.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

4.4.3 Do

4.4.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about drawing retailer’s attention. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about increasing brand visibility, now we will talk about drawing retailer’s attention.

4.4.5 Do
Share with the participants about ways to draw a retailer’s attention.
4.4.6 Elaborate
Repeat business is the backbone of sales. As a Field Sales Executive you have to keep your current customers engaged by drawing their attention to your brand constantly. A number of activities can be done by the Field Sales Executive to create value for the existing customers.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 81) to explain about drawing retailer’s attention, in detail.

4.4.7 Do
Tell the participants to get ready for an activity.

4.4.8 Activity
Divide the participants into groups of 4-5 each. Ask them to prepare and present a role play showing how to draw retailer’s attention by offering him various benefits. Ask them to make sure they are bundling and up selling correctly to create a value proposition for the retailer.

Debrief: The objective of this activity is to make the participants learn how to draw retailer’s attention.

The facilitator must ensure that the participants make use of all the possible tools required in drawing retailer’s attention.

   - How can you draw retailer’s attention?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

4.5.4 Say

Now let us begin with a new session which is about stock management and collections. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about drawing retailer’s attention, now we will talk about stock management and collections.

4.5.5 Say

Let us discuss about stock management and collection.
4.5.6 Elaborate

The Field Sales Executive must influence the retailer by offering them wide range of products and services. Besides this a Field Sales Executive must provide agreed quantity of stock to the retailer and also observe the store / outlet physically to see stock management

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 81) to explain about the concepts of stock management and collection, in detail.

4.5.7 Activity

Divide them into groups of 4-5 each. Ask them to prepare and present a role play showing how a retailer loses sale when he does not have optimum stock, use both over-stocking and under-stocking situations.

Debrief: The objective of this activity is to make the participants realise the importance of stock management.

The facilitator must ensure that the participants use both under-stocking and over-stocking situation in order to show how a retailer loses sale.

- Clarify all doubts of the participants.
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question

4.5.9 Summary

1. The FSE needs to understand the needs of the customers and provide the product accordingly. He must not just randomly keep on showing the products so that they buy it but must show it according to the need of the retailer.
2. The FSE should not be in a hurry for taking the cash from retailer, he must avoid taking advanced payments and opt for “cash on delivery” method.
UNIT 4.6: Showcasing New Products

Unit Objectives 📐
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:
• Gain knowledge about the process and importance of showcasing new products.

Resources to be Used 📚
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

4.6.1 Note ☀️
This is the twenty-first session of the program which talks about showcasing new products.

4.6.2 Say 🗣️
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

4.6.3 Do ✅
1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   • What do you understand about stock management?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

4.6.4 Say 🗣️
Now let us begin with a new session which is about showcasing new products. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about stock management and collections, now we will talk about showcasing new products.

4.6.5 Say 🗣️
There are three ways in which a Field Sales Executive can showcase a new product to a customer, namely, describing its USP, its Utility as well as describing its Features, Advantages and Benefits.
4.6.6 Ask

What do you understand by the term USP? Do you know the USP of any everyday products and services?

Response:

Give them the example of Domino Pizza USP, “30 minutes or its free”. Encourage their response and support their answers.

4.6.7 Elaborate

A unique selling proposition (USP, also seen as unique selling point) is a factor that differentiates a product from its competitors, such as the lowest cost, the highest quality or the first-ever product of its kind. A USP could be thought of as “what you have that competitors do not.”

It is considered as one of the fundamental pieces of any solid marketing campaign. It is a summary of what makes your business unique and valuable to your target market.

It answers the question: How do your business services benefit your customers better than anyone else can. USP can give a great deal of clarity to your business model, what your company does and why you do it. It can define your business and most important business goals in just a sentence.

A successful USP promises a clearly articulated benefit to consumers, offers them something that competitive products cannot or do not offer, and is compelling enough to attract new customers. For example: Airtel, “4 G SIM, unlimited calls, unlimited Internet”

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 82-83) to explain in detail about the concepts of showcasing new products offering the Features, Advantages & Benefits approach.

4.6.8 Activity

Divide them into groups of 4-5 each. Ask them to prepare and present the FAB of various telecom products and services such as, pre paid SIM, number Portability, VAS, etc.

4.6.9 Say

Let us move further and discuss about the steps involved in increasing the customer base.

4.6.10 Do

Share with the participants about each step in detail.
4.6.11 Elaborate

Steps involved in increasing customer base are:
- Discovery
- Planning
- Execution
- Iteration

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 84-85) to explain in detail about steps involved in increasing customer base.

4.6.12 Do

Tell the participants to get ready for an activity which would energise them.

4.6.13 Activity

- The facilitator should wrap a small gift with many layers of paper.
- On each layer the facilitator should write a task or a question.
- Example of the tasks: Sing a song; hug the person next to you, etc.
- Example of questions: What is your favourite colour? What are your hobbies?
- The facilitator should start the music or clap the hand if there is no music.
- The participants should pass the parcel around the circle.
- When the facilitator stops the music or the clapping, the person who is holding the parcel should tear off one layer of paper and carry out the task or answer the question written on the paper.
- The game continues until all the layers have been unwrapped.
- The gift goes to the last person who takes off the wrapping.

4.6.14 Do

Share with the participants about challenges faced by a Field Sales Executive and steps involved to increase sales.
4.6.15 Elaborate

Challenges faced by a Field Sales Executive:
Due to lack in channel innovation these are the conflicts that are arising in the channel. The following also has a list of problems faced due to this conflict.

- Problem of service
- Non-availability of particular offers
- Retailers selling SIM Cards at a cost lesser than the MRP
- Old SIM Cards not replaced in time
- Company related Issues

Steps involved to increase sales:
Almost anyone can learn to be a great Field Sales Executive if he/she follows these principles:

- Make a friend
- Sell people on value
- Be honest
- Add-on, Up sell or Cross-sell
- Learn from your successes and mistakes
- Go the Extra Mile

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 86-88) to explain in detail about steps involved in increasing customer base.

4.6.16 Activity

Organise a field visit and a meeting with a Field Sales Executive to observe and learn about sales. Ask everyone to make their field visit report based on their observations.

- Clarify all doubts of the participants.
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question
4.6.18 Summary

1. A unique selling proposition (USP, also seen as unique selling point) is a factor that differentiates a product from its competitors, such as the lowest cost, the highest quality or the first-ever product of its kind.

2. The strength of a product or service is weighed by its difference from the competitor’s product or service. The more different and unique the product/service is the more customers it will attract.

3. A feature is a characteristic of a product or service. Briefly discuss the features of your product or service.

4. A benefit is how the advantage translates specifically to help that customer.

5. Benefits an FSE can provide to a retailer:
   - Information about new offers and new coupons
   - Give Maximum Margin
   - Increase frequency of FSE visit, for eg, every second day
   - Keep stock up to date, both SIM stock and MNP SIM stock
   - Reduced average activation time for new connections
   - Help in problem solving related to company
5. Increasing the Width of Distribution

3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

5.1.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about Outlet Mapping. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about showcasing new products, now we will talk about Outlet Mapping.
5.1.6 Elaborate

As a business partner for the sale of the telecom products and services it is important for company to know the awareness level of the retailer. Field Sales Executive communicates various offers and schemes to the existing dealers or prospective dealers. As a part of beat plan a Field Sales Executive:

- Meets all the dealers and retailers who are interested in selling company’s products and services.
- Explains about the business and how to incur profit; and gives them competitor’s feedback through one to one interaction.
- Creates interest to become a new dealer or distributor by showing leaflets of different features.
- Convinces and creates interest through pushing sales.

Categorisation of Outlets

- Multi-brand outlets – Those that sell telecom products of more than one telecom provider. These retailers are specialists in the telecom sector having an accurate understanding of a telecom customer. They end up being the biggest advisors to any sales manager and also the biggest source of information regarding the competitors.
- Branded retail outlets – Those that sell telecom products of a single organization. These outlets are frequently company owned-company operated (COCO). However there can be other forms like franchisee owned-franchisee operated (FOFO). They are generally located in an up-market area where there is more customer foot traffic.
- Kirana stores (Mom and Pop stores) – These are friendly neighbourhood shops selling a variety of products for daily consumption in a household. Many times these shops contribute only a small amount of business to the telecom organization. However, they definitely increase the visibility and reach for any telecom organization.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 93-99) to explain about outlet mapping in detail.

5.1.7 Activity

Divide the class into small groups and ask them to discuss the process of outlet mapping. Ask each group to present their main points.

5.2.5 Say
Once outlet mapping is completed a Field Sales Executive need to plan a visit to meet all the retailers who are interested to sale the telecom company’s product. While visiting the prospective telecom retailers, Field Sales Executive should
5.2.6 Do ✔
Share with the participants about value proposition.

5.2.7 Elaborate ❋
As a Field Sales Executive you need to understand the reasons why prospective customers typically fall into three major buckets that form the rules of winning value propositions:

- Potential buyers have to need what you're selling. It has to resonate with them.
- Potential buyers have to see why you stand out from the other available options. You have to differentiate.
- Potential buyers have to believe that you can deliver on your promises. You have to substantiate.

If you don't follow all three of the value proposition rules and it makes it much more difficult to sell.

- Remove resonance, and people just will not buy what you are selling.
- Remove differentiation, and they will pressure your price or attempt to get your service someplace else.
- Remove your ability to substantiate your claims, and while customers may want what you sell (you resonate), and may perceive you to be the only people on the planet that do what you do (you differentiate), they do not believe you and will not risk working with you.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 99-101) to explain about offering value proposition, in detail.

5.2.8 Do ✔
Tell the participants to get ready for an activity

5.2.9 Activity ❋
- Ask the participants to form a circle.
- One person should start by saying “I am going to the market to buy fish”. The next person says I am going to the market to buy fish and potatoes.
- Each person should repeat the list and then add an item.
- The aim is to remember all the items that all the people before you have listed.

5.2.13 Elaborate

Return on Investment is probably the most important calculation one needs to make to ensure the long-term viability of their business. Return on Investment involves all the variables that could impact the outcome. This includes everything that could impact the return and should be considered as a part of Return on Investment.

Refer to the Participant Handbook (Pg 101-102) to the participants how to calculate return on investment.

5.2.14 Notes for Facilitation

- Ask the participants if they have any questions.
- Encourage other participants to answer it and to encourage peer learning in the class.
- Clarify all doubts of the participants.
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook.
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question.

5.2.15 Summary

1. While visiting the prospective telecom retailers FSE should ensure that he interact directly with owner or the decision maker of the outlet.
2. As an FSE you need to understand the reasons why prospective customers typically fall into three major buckets that form the rules of winning value propositions:
   - Potential buyers have to need what you’re selling. It has to resonate with them.

5.4.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about Negotiation and Closing of Sales. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about company products and processes, now we will talk about Negotiation and Closing of Sales.

5.4.5 Say
Let us discuss about negotiation.
5.4.7 Elaborate

Successful negotiating is a fine art, anticipating the barriers in negotiating takes a certain amount of skill. It includes:

- Before the negotiation begins, prepare yourself; aim to appear keen to do the deal, but not desperate.
- Clarify your objectives (e.g. price, volume, or a quick sale) and how important the deal is to you.
- Find out what the customer wants. What features or extras do they value, and what are their priorities - price, service or delivery?
- Research the customer's position: How urgently they need your product, what they can afford and what alternatives the competition is offering.
- Assess the value of your offering to the customer: what benefits it offers, what problems it solves for them, what alternatives it replaces.
- Identify the strengths and weaknesses in your proposal and plan your strategy; aim to reach a deal which will suit the customer as well.
- Decide what could be negotiable; try to identify concessions which would cost you little but which the customer would value.
- Consider the potential impact on other deals and other customers of any concessions you make.
- Clarify your terms and conditions from the start of the negotiation.
- Pitch your opening price high; explain how the value in what you are offering justifies the price.
- Agree what the negotiating points are.
- Concentrate on asking questions and listening; fend off questions aimed at discovering your own negotiating position.
- Test the strength of any concessions the customer asks for; ask whether they are deal-breakers, or what alternatives there are.
- Look for reciprocation on any concessions you make: for example, an increased order size in exchange for a discount.
- Summarise each point as it is agreed; shake hands on the deal when all the points have been covered, and follow up with a written agreement.

Refer to the participants Handbook (Pg 103-105) to explain about negotiation in detail.

5.4.8 Do

Share with the participants about steps to build a retailer network by referring to the participant handbook (Pg 105-106)
5.4.9 Activity
Divide them into groups of 4-5 each. Ask them to prepare and present a role play showing how they are negotiating with the retailer to close the deal. Ask them to make sure they are creating a value proposition for the retailer.
Debrief: The objective of this activity is to understand about negotiation.
The facilitator must ensure that the participants demonstrate this process of negotiation correctly in order to close the deal satisfactorily.

5.4.10 Say
There are four main objections you will hear on the phone when you are trying to make a sale, and they all revolve around budget, authority, need, and timeliness (also known as BANT). Knowing how to recognize these objections and having a process in place to handle them is the key to closing a sale or removing a poor-fit prospect from your sales queue.

5.4.11 Do
Share with the participants about four common sales objectives.

5.4.12 Elaborate
Four common sales objectives are:
• Objection 1: Budget
• Objection 2: Authority
• Objection 3: Need
• Objection 4: Timeframe
Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 107-109) to explain about how to handle sales objectives.
5.4.13 Activity

Organise a field visit and make the participants meet a Field Sales Executive to observe and learn about adding new customers and dealing with current retailers in order to increase distribution width. Ask everyone to make their field visit report based on their observations.

- Encourage other participants to answer it and to encourage peer learning in the class.
- Clarify all doubts of the participants.
- Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook.
- Ensure that all the participants answer every question.

5.4.15 Summary

Some Dos and Don’ts of Negotiation

Do’s
- Find out what the customer wants
- Decide in advance what areas you are prepared to negotiate
- Ask questions, and listen
- Aim for reciprocation on any concessions
- Confirm the deal with a written agreement

Don’ts
- Make concessions from the start
- Reveal your negotiating position
- Throw in extra concessions for nothing
6. Process Compliance

Unit 6.1 – Mobile Number Activation Process
Unit 6.2 – KYC Norms
Unit 6.3 – Addressing Issues and Complaints
At the end of this module, you will be able to:

1. Discuss mobile number activation process
2. Explain how to activate Mobile Number Portability
3. List down the KYC (Know Your Customer) Norms and TRAI guidelines
4. Understand how to validate the forms in case of any mismatch or error
5. Deal with retailers/customers issues and complaints
UNIT 6.1: Mobile Number Activation Process

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:
- Discuss about mobile number activation process

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts.

6.1.1 Note
This is the twenty-sixth session of the program which talks about Mobile Number Activation Process.

6.1.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

6.1.3 Do
1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - What are the benefits of retail outlets?
   - How does location play an important role in retail outlet selection?
   - What are the factors which must be evaluated in choosing an area or type of location within a city?
   - Write down the steps to close a sales call after negotiation.
   - What do you mean by value proposition? List down the steps to create it.
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

6.1.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about Mobile Number Activation Process. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about Negotiation and Closing of Sales, now we will talk about the Mobile Number Activation Process.
6.1.5 Say
The role of a Field Sales Executive is to educate retailers on the mobile number activation process, Mobile Number Portability (MNP), recharge and recharge reversal, KYC (Know Your Customer) Norms, TRAI guidelines, etc. Therefore it is essential that you understand functions of mobile handsets, to demonstrate number activation and other processes to retailers.

6.1.6 Ask
How many of you use pre paid SIMs? What was the process for activation?
Response: Capture responses and summarise them to talk about the activation process for pre paid SIMs defined as per TRAI guidelines.

6.1.7 Elaborate
Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 113-116) to explain about mobile number activation process and Mobile number portability.

6.1.8 Activity
Divide the class into small groups and ask them to discuss the process of number activation. Ask each group to present their main points.

6.3.4 Say

Now let us begin with a new session which is about Addressing Issues and Complaints. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about KYC Norms, now we will talk about Addressing Issues and Complaints.
6.3.5 Say 📜

A Field Sales Executive has another important role as the link between the company and the retailer; and responds to retailer issues and complaints.

Customer complaints are inevitable. Most customer concerns can be dealt with simply by complying with the person’s reasonable requests. From time-to-time, however, you will come across those customers who will demand something that is unwarranted or impossible to deliver. No matter what the issue at the heart of the complaint is, it is important to remember certain rules when resolving your customer service issues.

6.3.6 Do 🟢

Share the guidelines for resolving customer complaints.

6.3.7 Elaborate 🌟

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 121-122) to explain about addressing and resolving customer complaints.

6.3.8 Activity 🎯

Divide the class into four groups and ask them to perform and present a role play where the retailer is complaining to the Field Sales Executive about poor service, high activation time, low margins etc. Observe how they handle the situation as Field Sales Executives and reiterate the guidelines for resolving complaints.

Debrief: The objective of this activity is to make the participants learn how to address and then resolve the complaint. The facilitator must ensure that the participants perform the complaint handling process according to guidelines.

7. Data Expertise

Unit 7.1 – Resolving Data Related Issues
Unit 7.2 – Customer Feedback
Unit 7.3 – Data Confidentiality
At the end of this module, you will be able to:

1. Resolve data related queries, requests and complaints
2. Understand how a Field Sales Executive must obtain retailer feedback and process it to improve quality of service
UNIT 7.1: Resolving Data Related Issues

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:
- Resolve data related queries, requests and complaints

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

7.1.1 Note
This is the twenty-ninth session of the program which talks about Resolving Data Related Issues.

7.1.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

7.1.3 Do
1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - List down certain points which should be kept in mind while handling customers complains and explain any two points.
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

7.1.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about resolving data related issues. In the previous sessions, we have had a clear understanding about addressing issues and complaints, now we will talk about resolving data related issues.
7.1.5 Say
Most telecom operators also provide data services in the form of wireless internet, broadband or fixed line connections and data card. With lightning fast speeds, customers can now surf seamlessly at the place and time of their choice. Be it checking mails during transit or updating status while with friends or watching movies on the go, they experience the internet without any limits.

As a Field Sales Executive, you must know about data related tariff plans, offers and schemes so that you can pitch best suited data related plans and products to the customers. You must also identify issues by asking relevant questions and resolve customers’ data related concerns.

7.1.6 Ask
Do you use the internet? What is the difference between 2G, 3G and now 4G?
Response:
Capture the response of the participants and then discuss about the difference with them.

7.1.7 Elaborate
The role of the Field Sales Executive here is to -

- Identify issues by asking relevant questions and resolve customers’ data related concerns
- Provide resolution to customers on data related QRCs to reduce repeat walk-in/interactions of customers with data related queries
- Understand customer needs and pitch best suited data related plans and products to the customers

What is QRC?
Query: A Query is a question or an inquiry. Through a Query, customers try taking information about their account or any other services.
Complaint: In a complaint, customers complain against services due to issues faced by them.
Request: Through a request, a customer makes a request for a product or a service.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 127-129) to explain about the ways to tackle queries, requests and complaints.

7.1.8 Activity
Divide the class into four groups and ask them to prepare and present a chart on common queries, complaints and requests that a customer or retailer may have related to data and how they would resolve it.

• Clarify all doubts of the participants.
• Ask them to answer the questions given in the participant handbook.
• Ensure that all the participants answer every question.

7.1.10 Summary

1. The different types of data plans available are:
   • Modem Enabled
   • Broadband: Fixed line or Wi Fi
   • 2G
   • 3G
   • 4G

2. A Query is a question or an inquiry. Through a Query, customer tries taking information about their account or any other services.

3. In a complaint customer complaint against services due to facing some issues.

4. Through a request, customer makes a request for a product or a service.
UNIT 7.2: Customer Feedback

Unit Objectives

At the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- Understand how a Field Sales Executive must obtain customer feedback

Resources to be Used

Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

7.2.1 Note

This is the thirtieth session of the program which talks about Customer Feedback. The feedback of a customer is of great importance, so the participants should be trained as to how to respond to the feedback.

7.2.2 Say

Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

7.2.3 Do

1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - What are the steps involved while approaching the customers in resolving complaints?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

7.2.4 Say

Now let us begin with a new session which is about Customer Feedback. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about resolving data related issues, now we will talk about Customer Feedback.

7.2.5 Say

Organised information collected from your customer about their opinion, suggestions and experience about the product or service, is called Feedback.
7.2.6 Do
Share with the participants about the importance and advantages of customer feedback.

7.2.7 Elaborate

Importance of customer feedback:
Customer feedback allows telecom companies to better understand how customers rate and use their products or service as against competitive products. It is of high importance for determining where a company’s products and services excel or fall short against customers’ expectations and against alternate service providers in the market. For example, customers may like the network coverage of ABC Telecom as against XYZ Telecom, which means that XYZ Telecom would need to improve on their network coverage.

Customer feedback can help telecom companies in evaluating how employees treat customers.
Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 130-131) to explain about advantages of customer feedback and how to respond to it.

7.2.8 Activity

Organise a field visit and a meeting with a Field Sales Executive to observe and learn how to deal with customer feedback. Ask everyone to make their field visit report based on their observations.

Since the participants are already on the field, let them know that the next topic they would learn is about how to tackle angry customers. Thus you could ask them to discuss with the Field Sales Executive about the same and have him share his experiences around this topic.

7.2.9 Say

There could be times when your customer (the retailer) could be very upset due to less frequent visits from your end; no timely customer pack activation; angry customers due to high billing; etc. So in such scenarios, how do you deal with such irate retailers (who are your customers), where your business and customer reputation is at stake.

7.2.10 Do
Discuss with the participants about how to deal with angry customers.
7.2.11 Elaborate

Steps involved in dealing with angry customers:

- STEP 1: Adjust Your Mind Set
- STEP 2: Listen Actively
- STEP 3: Repeat Their Concerns
- STEP 4: Be Empathic and Apologize
- STEP 5: Present a Solution
- STEP 6: Take Action and Follow-up
- STEP 7: Use the Feedback

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 132-133) to explain about dealing with angry customers.

UNIT 7.3: Data Confidentiality

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:
• Explain the importance of data confidentiality

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

7.3.1 Note
This is the thirty-first session of the program which talks about Data Confidentiality. Data Confidentiality is very important part for a Field Sales Executive. He must ensure that none of the data of a customer is leaked or shared. Explain the participants about the importance of data confidentiality.

7.3.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

7.3.3 Do
1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   • What are the steps involved while dealing with angry customers?
   • Why is it always important to deal with angry customers?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

7.3.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about Data Confidentiality. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about Customer Feedback, now we will talk about Data Confidentiality.
7.3.5 Say
Data is the primary asset of any organisation and its security is essential. This data could be:
- Customer information such as their phone, financial or personal details
- The way your organisation functions, like its process flow, the way departments work, names and contact information of those people.
- Policies and procedures of your organisation.

7.3.6 Do
Discuss with the participants about how to deal with angry customers.

7.3.7 Elaborate
Information Security:
It is important that as a Field Sales Executive, you take all measures for information security. Information security is the practice of defending information from unauthorized access, use, disclosure, disruption, modification, inspection, recording or destruction.

Client Confidentiality:
The customer places a lot of trust in the organisation and in the Field Sales Executive before sharing his information. It is crucial for the Field Sales Executive to maintain that trust and faith by maintaining the confidentiality of the customer’s information.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 135-136) to explain about information security and client confidentiality in detail.

7.3.8 Activity
Ask the participants to refer to the Participant Handbook and study in detail about information security and client confidentiality, so that when they are asked questions regarding it they are able to answer the same.

Unit Objectives
At the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- Explain the process involved in resolving data related queries, requests and complaints

Resources to be Used
Participant Handbook, Pens / pencils, Sticky Notes, Notepad, Computer, Projector, White board, Flip charts

8.1.1 Note
This is the thirty-second session of the program which talks about professional skills.

8.1.2 Say
Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program ‘Field Sales Executive’. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

8.1.3 Do
1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - What do you understand by information security?
   - What do understand by client confidentiality?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

8.1.4 Say
Now let us begin with a new session which is about Professional Skills. In the previous sessions, we have had a clear understanding about Data Confidentiality, now we will talk about Professional Skill
8.1.5 Say

When starting a career as a Field Sales Executive, it is imperative to develop professional ethics. Strong work ethics shows that a person is self-motivated, conducts work in a professional manner, and is able to self-evaluate. It is necessary to possess these qualities because they will determine the success that one can get in this industry.

The first important fundamental of a strong work ethic is self-motivation. Self-motivation is the ability to satisfy a desire, expectation, or goal without being influenced to do so by another person.

Developing and following a code of ethics for your business helps you set the tone for your employees, reassure your customers that you have their best interests at heart, and establish your working area as a reputable workplace.

8.1.6 Say

Let us start the session by discussing about decision making and problem solving skills.

8.1.7 Do

Share with the participants about decision making and problem solving.

8.1.8 Say

Problem solving is an essential part of every job role. As a Field Sales Executive, you will encounter various problems where you will need to take a decision. For example, breakdown and malfunction of equipment, unsafe and hazardous working conditions, security breaches, etc.

Refer to the participant handbook (139-140) to explain about decision making and problem solving.

8.1.9 Activity

Ask the participants to get into groups and discuss common problems which a Field Sales Executive faces and ways to solve them. Ask each group to take one problem and identify the best solution.

8.1.10 Say

Planning involves setting objectives and determining a course of action for achieving those objectives. Organising is the function of management that involves developing an organisational structure and allocating human resources to ensure the accomplishment of objectives. For planning your tasks of the day, you need to prioritise your tasks and complete them in time.
8.1.11 Do

Share with the participants about prioritising tasks.

8.1.12 Elaborate

For efficient working, we should prioritise our work. Let us see what the possible steps could be. The first step is to itemise the tasks and then create a ‘TO DO’ list. Create a list each day. There will be common tasks that occur daily or weekly and these will be carried out each day. As new tasks are given to you, add them to the list. When you have completed your task list, you would be ready to tackle the tasks you need to do in order of importance.

- Dealing with a customer’s enquiry is more important than putting the products on shelves/at their place.
- Getting customers billed is more important than talking to your colleague.
- Some tasks are needed to be completed before specific deadlines, for example, cleaning and setting the work area at the end of the day, for the next day.

This is called prioritising your tasks.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 141-142) to explain about prioritising tasks.

8.1.13 Activity

- Draw a line representing the seashore and ask the participants to stand behind the line.
- When the facilitator shouts “tide’s out” everyone jumps forward over the line, when the facilitator shouts “tide’s in” everyone jumps backward over the line.
- If the facilitator shouts “tides out” twice in a row, participants who move will have to drop out of the game.

8.1.14 Say

Let us now move further and discuss about

- Time Management
- Urgent and Important Matrix
8.1.15 Elaborate

Time management refers to managing time effectively so that the right time is allocated to the right activity. Planning and time management are two sides of the same coin; they complement each other. Effective time management allows individuals to assign specific time slots to activities as per their importance. It helps you in making the best use of time at hand; as time is always limited.

Effective Time Management includes:

- Effective planning for setting goals and objectives
- Prioritising activities and delegation of responsibilities
- Spending the right time on the right activity and avoiding time robbers such as gossiping, extended tea breaks, etc.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 142-143) to explain about time management and urgent and important matrix.

8.1.18 Say

Let us discuss about customer centricity.

8.1.19 Elaborate

Customer centricity does not mean simply being there. Being customer-centric means that everything you do from the environment that you place them in and the way you serve those customers is centred on and about customers and their experience. This approach not only limits to external customers (daily customers, frequent customers, etc.), but also to the internal customers (other colleagues etc.).

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 144) to explain about customer centricity in detail.
8.1.20 Do

- Share with the participants about analytical skills
- Share with them about basic arithmetic and numeric calculation
- Discuss with them about how to add, subtract, multiply and divide
- Explain the steps to calculate percentage

8.1.21 Elaborate

Strong analytical skills and analytical thinking are among the most critical abilities that you as a Field Sales Executive need to possess, considering how important numbers and trends are for your job role.

Analytical skills are the ability to gather, visualise and analyse information in detail. It is the ability to view a problem/situation from different perspectives. It allows you to solve complex problems by making decisions in an effective way.

For example, if you are a Field Sales Executive, one of your main goals is to increase customer base as well as the width and depth of distribution.

To achieve that, you have to be able to gather and analyze information about the company’s current position and to build strategies for expanding customer base. Thus, if you do not possess strong analytical skills, this mission would be next to impossible.

Refer to the participant handbook (Pg 144) to explain about analytical and arithmetic skills.

8.1.22 Activity

Prepare a worksheet for all participants, which consists of ten problems each on addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, fraction and percentage. Distribute it to all the participants and ask them to solve the same.

10.1.1 Note

This is the thirty-first session of the program which talks about personal strengths & value systems.

10.1.2 Say

Good morning and a very warm welcome to this training program. Before we begin this session let us have a quick recap of the previous session.

10.1.3 Do

1. Begin with revising the things explained in previous session. Ask the following questions
   - What is the use of FAQ’s?
2. Encourage the participants to give their response
3. Ensure that the class should not lose focus
4. Clarify if they have any doubts
5. Tell them about what they are going to learn in this session

10.1.4 Say

Now let us begin with a new session which is about personal strengths & value systems. In the previous sessions we have had a clear understanding about working at heights, now we will talk about personal strengths & value systems.

10.1.5 Say

As per the World Health Organization (WHO), health is a “State of complete physical, mental, and social well-being, and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity.” This means being healthy does not simply mean not being unhealthy – it also means you need to be at peace emotionally, and feel fit physically. For example, you cannot say you are healthy simply because you do not have any physical ailments like a cold or cough.

Let us start the session by discussing about common health issues.

10.1.6 Do

- Share with the participants about common health issues
- Discuss with them the tips to prevent health issues
10.1.7 Elaborate

Some common health issues are:

- Allergies
- Asthma
- Skin Disorders
- Depression and Anxiety
- Diabetes
- Cough, Cold, Sore Throat
- Difficulty Sleeping
- Obesity

Tips to prevent health issues:

- Eating healthy foods like fruits, vegetables and nuts
- Cutting back on unhealthy and sugary foods
- Drinking enough water everyday
- Not smoking or drinking alcohol
- Exercising for at least 30 minutes a day, 4-5 times a week
- Taking vaccinations when required
- Practicing yoga exercises and meditation

10.1.8 Say

As per the World Health Organization (WHO), “Hygiene refers to conditions and practices that help to maintain health and prevent the spread of diseases.” In other words, hygiene means ensuring that you do whatever is required to keep your surroundings clean, so that you reduce the chances of spreading germs and diseases.

10.1.9 Do

Share with the participants about ‘Swachh Bharat Abhiyan’.

10.1.10 Elaborate

The ‘Swachh Bharat Abhiyan’ (Clean India Mission) launched by Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi on 2nd October 2014, believes in extending good hygiene and health practices to our homes, our immediate surroundings and to our country as a whole.

The aim of this mission is to clean the streets and roads of India and raise the overall level of cleanliness. Currently this mission covers 4,041 cities and towns across the country. Millions of our people have taken the pledge for a clean India.
10.1.11 Say
A habit is a behaviour that is repeated frequently. All of us have good habits and bad habits. Keep in mind the phrase by John Dryden: “We first make our habits, and then our habits make us.” This is why it is so important that you make good habits a way of life, and consciously avoid practicing bad habits.

Let us now move further and discuss about good and bad habits

10.1.12 Elaborate
Some good habits that you should make part of your daily routine are:
- Always having a positive attitude
- Making exercise a part of your daily routine
- Reading motivational and inspirational stories
- Some bad habits that you should quit immediately are:
  - Skipping breakfast
  - Snacking frequently even when you are not hungry
  - Eating too much fattening and sugary food

Refer to participant handbook (Pg-170) to explain about good and bad habits, in detail.

10.1.13 Activity
Divide the class in four groups and ask the participants to make a chart on good and bad habits. The best chart will be pinned on the board in order to encourage passive learning.

At the end of the activity reiterate the good and bad habits, in order to conclude the activity in a proper way.

10.1.14 Say
Let us discuss about tips for a safe workplace and non-negotiable employee safety habits.
10.1.15 Elaborate

Every employer is obligated to ensure that his workplace follows the highest possible safety protocol. When setting up a business, owners must make it a point to:

- Use ergonomically designed furniture and equipment to avoid stooping and twisting
- Provide mechanical aids to avoid lifting or carrying heavy objects
- Have protective equipment on hand for hazardous jobs
- Designate emergency exits and ensure they are easily accessible
- Set down health codes and ensure they are implemented
- Follow the practice of regular safety inspections in and around the workplace
- Ensure regular building inspections are conducted
- Get expert advice on workplace safety and follow it

Refer to participant handbook (Pg-171) to explain about non-negotiable employee safety habits, in detail.

10.1.16 Say

Motivation is your reason for acting or behaving in a certain manner. It is important to understand that not everyone is motivated by the same desires – people are motivated by different things. We can understand this better by looking at Maslow’s Hierarchy of Needs.

10.3.17 Ask

Ask the participants to list down five things that really motivates them.

Write down their points on a flip chart/black board and link it with the points given in the participant handbook, in order to create an interactive and interesting learning session.

10.1.18 Do

Share with the participants about Maslow’s Hierarchy of Needs.

10.1.19 Elaborate

Famous American psychologist Abraham Maslow wanted to understand what motivates people. He believed that people have five types of needs, ranging from very basic needs (called physiological needs) to more important needs that are required for self-growth (called self-actualization needs). Between the physiological and self-actualization needs are three other needs – safety needs, belongingness and love needs, and esteem needs.

Refer to the pyramid given participant handbook (Pg-172-173) to explain about Maslow’s Hierarchy of Needs.
10.1.20 Activity
Divide the class in four groups and ask the participants to make a chart on Maslow’s Hierarchy of Needs. The best chart will be pinned on the board in order to encourage passive learning.
At the end of the activity reiterate about Maslow’s Hierarchy of Needs, in order to conclude the activity in a proper way.

10.1.21 Do
Share with the participants about characteristics of entrepreneurs with achievement motivation by referring to participant handbook (Pg-174).

10.1.22 Say
Attitude can be described as your tendency (positive or negative), to think and feel about someone or something. Attitude is the foundation for success in every aspect of life. Our attitude can be our best friend or our worst enemy. In other words “The only disability in life is a bad attitude.” Let us discuss about attitude in detail.

10.1.23 Do
- Share with the participants about attitude
- Discuss with them about how to cultivate a positive attitude

10.1.24 Elaborate
The following tips help foster a positive mindset:
- Remember that you control your attitude, not the other way around
- Devote at least 15 minutes a day towards reading, watching or listening to something positive
- Avoid negative people who only complain and stop complaining yourself
- Expand your vocabulary with positive words and delete negative phrases from your mind
- Be appreciative and focus on what’s good in yourself, in your life, and in others
Refer to participant handbook (Pg-174) to explain about how to cultivate a positive attitude, in detail.
10.1.25 Say

Honesty is the quality of being fair and truthful. It means speaking and acting in a manner that inspires trust. A person who is described as honest is seen as truthful and sincere, and as someone who isn’t deceitful or devious and doesn’t steal or cheat. There are two dimensions of honesty – one is honesty in communication and the other is honesty in conduct.

Honesty is an extremely important trait because it results in peace of mind and builds relationships that are based on trust. Being dishonest, on the other hand, results in anxiety and leads to relationships full of distrust and conflict. Let us discuss about this in detail.

10.1.26 Do

Share with the participants about:

- Qualities of honest people
- Importance of honesty in entrepreneurs

10.1.27 Elaborate

Some common qualities among honest people are:

- They don’t worry about what others think of them. They believe in being themselves – they don’t bother about whether they are liked or disliked for their personalities.
- They stand up for their beliefs. They won’t think twice about giving their honest opinion, even if they are aware that their point of view lies with the minority.
- They are thick skinned. This means they are not affected by others judging them harshly for their honest opinions.
- They forge trusting, meaningful and healthy friendships. Honest people usually surround themselves with honest friends. They have faith that their friends will be truthful and upfront with them at all times.
- They are trusted by their peers. They are seen as people who can be counted on for truthful and objective feedback and advice.

Refer to participant handbook (Pg-176) to explain about importance of honesty in entrepreneurs, in detail.

10.1.28 Activity

Ask the participants to analyze themselves by honestly identifying their strengths and weaknesses. This will help them use your strengths to the best advantage and reduce weaknesses.

Ask the participants to note down all their strengths and weaknesses in the two columns. Ask them to perform this task honestly.

  • They are highly proactive and persistent
  • They are organized, cautious and risk-averse

10.1.39 Say

Time management is the process organizing your time, and deciding how to allocate your time between different activities. Good time management is the difference between working smart (getting more done in less time) and working hard (working for more time to get more done).

Effective time management leads to an efficient work output, even when you are faced with tight deadlines and high pressure situations. On the other hand, not managing your time effectively results in inefficient output and increases stress and anxiety.

Let us discuss about benefits of time management.

10.1.40 Do

Share with the participants about benefits of time management.
10.1.41 Elaborate

Time management can lead to huge benefits like:

- Greater productivity
- Higher efficiency
- Better professional reputation

Anger management is the process of:
- Learning to recognize the signs that you or someone else is becoming angry
- Taking the best course of action to calm down the situation in a positive way

Anger management does not mean suppressing anger.
Let us discuss about importance of anger management.

10.1.47 Do ✅
Share with the participants about importance of anger management.

10.1.48 Elaborate 🌿
Anger is a perfectly normal human emotion. In fact, when managed the right way, anger can be considered a healthy emotion. However, if it is not kept in check, anger can make us act inappropriately and can lead to us saying or doing things that we will likely later regret.

Extreme anger can:
- Hurt you physically: It leads to heart disease, diabetes, a weakened immune system, insomnia, and high blood pressure.
- Hurt you mentally: It can cloud your thinking and lead to stress, depression and mental health issues.
- Hurt your career: It can result in alienating your colleagues, bosses, clients and lead to the loss of respect.
Hurt your relationships: It makes it hard for your family and friends to trust you, be honest with you and feel comfortable around you. This is why anger management, or managing anger appropriately, is so important.

10.1.49 Do
- Discuss with the participants about anger management strategies
- Share with them about tips for anger management

10.1.50 Elaborate
Here are some strategies that can help you control your anger:
- Strategy 1: Relaxation
- Strategy 2: Cognitive Restructuring
- Strategy 3: Problem Solving
- Strategy 4: Better Communication
  Strategy 5: Changing Your Environment

The following tips will help you keep your anger in check:
- Take some time to collect your thoughts before you speak out in anger.
- Express the reason for your anger in an assertive, but non-confrontational manner once you have calmed down.

Refer to participant handbook (Pg-182-183) to explain about anger management strategies and tips for anger management.

10.1.51 Say
Anything that challenges or threatens our well-being can be defined as a stress. It is important to note that stress can be good and bad. While good stress keeps us going, negative stress undermines our mental and physical health. This is why it is so important to manage negative stress effectively.
Let us discuss about stress in detail.

10.1.52 Do
- Share with the participants about causes of stress
- Discuss with them about symptoms of stress

- All in or all out attitude

External causes of stress
- Major life changes
- Difficulties at work or in school
- Difficulties with relationships
- Financial difficulties
- Having too much to do
- Worrying about one’s children and/or family

The following tips can help you manage your stress better:
- Note down the different ways in which you can handle the various sources of your stress.
- Remember that you cannot control everything, but you can control how you respond.
- Discuss your feelings, opinions and beliefs rather than reacting angrily, defensively or passively.
- Practice relaxation techniques like meditation, yoga or tai chi when you start feeling stressed.
- Devote a part of your day towards exercise.
- Eat healthy foods like fruits and vegetables. Avoid unhealthy foods especially those containing large amounts of sugar.

Refer to participant handbook (Pg-185) to explain about the following:
- Causes of stress
- Symptoms of stress
- Tips to manage stress

10.3.25 Elaborate

NEFT:

NEFT stands for National Electronic Funds Transfer. This money transfer system allows you to electronically transfer funds from your respective bank accounts to any other account, either in the same bank or belonging to any other bank. NEFT can be used by individuals, firms and corporate organizations to transfer funds between accounts.

RTGS:

RTGS stands for Real Time Gross Settlement. This is a real time funds transfer system which enables you to transfer funds from one bank to another, in real time or on a gross basis. The transferred amount is immediately deducted from the account of one bank, and instantly credited to the other bank’s account. The RTGS payment gateway is maintained by the Reserve Bank of India. The transactions between banks are made electronically.

IMPS:

IMPS stands for Immediate Payment Service. This is a real-time, inter-bank, electronic funds transfer system used to transfer money instantly within banks across India. IMPS enables users to make instant electronic transfer payments using mobile phones through both, Mobile Banking and SMS. It can also be used through ATMs and online banking. IMPS is available 24 hours a day and 7 days a week. The system features a secure transfer gateway and immediately confirms orders that have been fulfilled.

10.5.42 Elaborate

Let’s take a look at the stages of the entrepreneurial process.

Stage 1: Idea Generation. The entrepreneurial process begins with an idea that has been thought of by the entrepreneur. The idea is a problem that has the potential to be solved.

Stage 2: Germination or Recognition. In this stage a possible solution to the identified problem is thought of.

Stage 3: Preparation or Rationalization. The problem is studied further and research is done to find out how others have tried to solve the same problem.

Stage 4: Incubation or Fantasizing. This stage involves creative thinking for the purpose of coming up with more ideas. Less thought is given to the problem areas.

Stage 5: Feasibility Study: The next step is the creation of a feasibility study to determine if the idea will make a profit and if it should be seen through.

Stage 6: Illumination or Realization. This is when all uncertain areas suddenly become clear. The entrepreneur feels confident that his idea has merit.

Stage 7: Verification or Validation. In this final stage, the idea is verified to see if it works and if it is useful.

Refer to the diagram given in participant handbook (Pg-224) to explain about entrepreneurial process.
The entrepreneurship support ecosystem signifies the collective and complete nature of entrepreneurship. New companies emerge and flourish not only because of the courageous, visionary entrepreneurs who launch them, but they thrive as they are set in an environment or ‘ecosystem’ made of private and public participants. These players nurture and sustain the new ventures, facilitating the entrepreneurs’ efforts.

Let us discuss about entrepreneurship ecosystem in detail.

Share with the participants about six domains of entrepreneurship ecosystem.

An entrepreneurship ecosystem comprises of the following six domains:

- Favourable Culture: This includes elements such as tolerance of risk and errors, valuable networking and positive social standing of the entrepreneur.
- Facilitating Policies & Leadership: This includes regulatory framework incentives and existence of public research institutes.
- Financing Options: Angel financing, venture capitalists and micro loans would be good examples of this.
- Human Capital: This refers to trained and untrained labour, entrepreneurs and entrepreneurship training programmes, etc.
- Conducive Markets for Products & Services: This refers to an existence or scope of existence of a market for the product/service.
- Institutional & Infrastructural Support: This includes legal and financing advisers, telecommunications, digital and transportation infrastructure, and entrepreneurship networking programmes.

Share with the participants about key schemes to promote entrepreneurs.

10.5.49 Say

Entrepreneurs are inherently risk takers. They are path-makers not path-takers. Unlike a normal, cautious person, an entrepreneur would not think twice about quitting his job (his sole income) and taking a risk on himself and his idea.

An entrepreneur is aware that while pursuing his dreams, assumptions can be proven wrong and unforeseen events may arise. He knows that after dealing with numerous problems, success is still not guaranteed. Entrepreneurship is synonymous with the ability to take risks. This ability, called risk-appetite, is an entrepreneurial trait that is partly genetic and partly acquired.

10.5.50 Do

- Share with the participants about risk appetite
- Discuss with them about risk appetite statement
What is risk appetite?
Risk appetite is defined as the extent to which a company is equipped to take risk, in order to achieve its objectives. Essentially, it refers to the balance, struck by the company, between possible profits and the hazards caused by changes in the environment (economic ecosystem, policies, etc.). Taking on more risk may lead to higher rewards but have a high probability of losses as well. However, being too conservative may go against the company as it can miss out on good opportunities to grow and reach their objectives.

Risk appetite statement:
Risk appetite statement should convey the following:

- The nature of risks the business faces.
- Which risks the company is comfortable taking on and which risks are unacceptable.
- How much risk to accept in all the risk categories.
- The desired trade off between risk and reward.
- Measures of risk and methods of examining and regulating risk exposures.

Refer to participant handbook (Pg-234) to explain about risk appetite, in detail.

Tell the participants to get ready for an activity which would energize them.

- Ask the facilitator to choose a few well-known phrases and write half of each phrase on pieces of paper and the other half on other pieces.
- For example- “Happy” on one piece of paper and “Birthday” on another
- The number of chits should match the number of participants in the group
- Fold the pieces of paper and put them in a bowl
- Ask each participant to pick a chit from the bowl and try to find the member of the group with the matching half of the same phrase

10.6.5 Say

Market research is the process of gathering, analyzing and interpreting market information on a product or service that is being sold in that market. It also includes information on:

- Past, present and prospective customers
- Customer characteristics and spending habits
- The location and needs of the target market
- The overall industry
- Relevant competitors

Market research involves two types of data:

- Primary information. This is research collected by yourself or by someone hired by you.
- Secondary information. This is research that already exists and is out there for you to find and use.

Primary research

Primary research can be of two types:

- Exploratory: This is open-ended and usually involves detailed, unstructured interviews.
- Specific: This is precise and involves structured, formal interviews. Conducting specific research is the more expensive than conducting exploratory research.
Secondary research

Secondary research uses outside information. Some common secondary sources are:

- Public sources: These are usually free and have a lot of good information. Examples are government departments, business departments of public libraries etc.
- Commercial sources: These offer valuable information but usually require a fee to be paid.
- Examples are research and trade associations, banks and other financial institutions etc.
- Educational institutions: These offer a wealth of information. Examples are colleges, universities, technical institutes etc.

10.6.6 Do

CRM stands for Customer Relationship Management. Originally the expression Customer Relationship Management meant managing one’s relationship with customers. However, today it refers to IT systems and software designed to help companies manage their relationships.

Let us discuss about CRM in detail.

10.6.12 Do

Share with the participants about needs and benefits of CRM.

10.6.13 Elaborate

Need for CRM:

The better a company can manage its relationships with its customers, the higher the chances of the company’s success. For any entrepreneur, the ability to successfully retain existing customers and expand the enterprise is paramount. This is why IT systems that focus on addressing the problems of dealing with customers on a daily basis are becoming more and more in demand.

Customer needs change over time, and technology can make it easier to understand what customers really want. This insight helps companies to be more responsive to the needs of their customers. It enables them to modify their business operations when required, so that their customers are always served in the best manner possible. Simply put, CRM helps companies recognize the value of their clients and enables them to capitalize on improved customer relations.

Refer to participant handbook (Pg-245) to explain about benefits of CRM.
In business, networking means leveraging your business and personal connections in order to bring in a regular supply of new business. This marketing method is effective as well as low cost. It is a great way to develop sales opportunities and contacts. Networking can be based on referrals and introductions, or can take place via phone, email, and social and business networking websites.

Share with the participants about the need and benefits of networking.

Need for Networking:

Networking is an essential personal skill for business people, but it is even more important for entrepreneurs. The process of networking has its roots in relationship building. Networking results in greater communication and a stronger presence in the entrepreneurial ecosystem.

This helps build strong relationships with other entrepreneurs.

Business networking events held across the globe play a huge role in connecting like-minded entrepreneurs who share the same fundamental beliefs in communication, exchanging ideas and converting ideas into realities. Such networking events also play a crucial role in connecting entrepreneurs with potential investors. Entrepreneurs may have vastly different experiences and backgrounds but they all have a common goal in mind – they all seek connection, inspiration, advice, opportunities and mentors. Networking offers them a platform to do just that.

Refer to participant handbook (Pg-245-246) to explain about benefits of networking.

A business plan is a tool for understanding how your business is put together. It can be used to monitor progress, foster accountable and control the fate of the business. It usually offers a 3-5 year projection and outlines the plan that the company intends to follow to grow its revenues.

A business plan is also a very important tool for getting the interest of key employees or future investors.

A business plan typically comprises of eight elements.

Share with the participants the elements of business plan.

Refer to participant handbook (Pg-247-248) to explain about elements of business plan.
10.6.20 Say
For entrepreneurs, one of the most difficult challenges faced involves securing funds for start-ups. With numerous funding options available, entrepreneurs need to take a close look at which funding methodology works best for them. In India, banks are one of the largest funders of start-ups, offering funding to thousands of start-ups every year.

10.6.21 Do
Share with the participants about information which should be offered to bank for funding.

10.6.22 Elaborate
When approaching a bank, entrepreneurs must have a clear idea of the different criteria that banks use to screen, rate and process loan applications. Entrepreneurs must also be aware of the importance of providing banks with accurate and correct information. It is now easier than ever for financial institutions to track any default behaviour of loan applicants. Entrepreneurs looking for funding from banks must provide banks with information relating to their general credentials, financial situation and guarantees or collaterals that can be offered.

Refer to participant handbook (Pg-251) to explain about information which should be offered to bank for funding, in detail.

10.6.23 Activity
Ask the participants to pair themselves, ask one of them to become a bank manager and the other the person who wants to apply for funds.
Ask the person who is applying for funds to submit your application form and all other required documents to the bank.
The person enacting as bank manager should carefully assess your credit worthiness and assign ratings by analyzing the business information with respect to parameters like management, financial, operational and industry information as well as past loan performance.
The bank manager will then make a decision as to whether or not you should be given funding.
